

Artifact: Business Requirements Document (BRD)

Purpose

This document defines the business problem, objectives, scope, and high-level functional requirements for a context-aware productivity support capability. It serves as the primary reference for aligning stakeholders prior to solution design and development.

What This Demonstrates

- Ability to translate stakeholder needs into structured business requirements
- Clear scope definition, assumptions, and constraints
- Use of testable, enterprise-style functional requirements
- Risk and mitigation thinking appropriate for regulated environments

How to Review

Focus on:

- Clarity of problem statement and objectives
- Discipline in scope and out-of-scope definition
- Traceability readiness (requirements are testable and measurable)
